Select Poetry.

'TIS SWEET TO BE REMEMBERED.

Oh! 'tis sweet to be remembered
In the merry days of youth,
While the world seems full of brightness,
And the heart retains its truth,
When our hopes are like the morning beams
That flash along the sea.
And every dream we know of life
Is one of purity!
'Tis sweet to be remembered
As the spring remembers earth—
Spreading roses in our pathway,
Filling all our hearts with mirth.

O! 'tis sweet to be remembered
In the summer time of life,
Ere we reach the burning summit
With our weight of woe and strife,
To look backward through the shadows
Where our journey first begun,
And the golden flowers of mem'ry
Turn their faces to the sun;—
'Tis sweet to be remembered
As the breeze remembers day,
Floating upward from the valley,
O'er the pilgrim's weary way.

O! 'tis sweet to be remembered
When our life has lost its bloom,
And every morning sun we meet
May leave us at the tomb;
When our youth is half forgotten,
And we gaze, with yearnings fond,
From a world where all are dying,
To the deathless world beyond;—
'Tis sweet to be remembered
As the stars remember night,
Shining downward through the darkness,
With a pure and holy light.

Select Miscellany.

A DESPERATE DUEL ON THE ICE.

The Count F., from his earliest youth had always had the pretensions of being one of the finest skaters of the Court, and in consequence, a sort of silent rivalry, almost amounting to hate, had sprung up between himself and a gentleman attached to the suit of the Grand Duke Constantine, which, to every looker-on at the struggle, was foretold to end badly for one or the other—perhaps for both. At a skating-match on the sheet of ice into which the lovely lake on the grounds of Szarsko Seloe is turned during the winter, the whole youth of the Imperial Guard had assembled to decide the question between the two pretenders—the Czarowitz Alexander (the present Czar) backing his champion for a large amount against the favorite of the Grand Duke. The affair presented the greatest interest, and immense sums were staked upon the issue. As usual, it ended in uncertainty—Count F. claiming the victory, while his adversary maintained the contest to be an unfair one. The Czarowitz put an end to the dispute by pronouncing in favor of the Count; but, of course, the parties adjourned from the skating ground to arrange the preliminaries of a meeting to take place at once, for such was the rage felt by the Count's adversary at the decision which had been given against him, that he declared it impossible to allow his vengeance to cool even for a few hours. By a singular whim, the adversary, to whom fell by lot the choice of weapons, chose swords, and added the singular condition that the duel should be fought upon the ice, upon the very scene where the injustice had been committed, and in skates! Count F. dared not refuse the terms, lest he might be accused of accepting the second place among the proficients of that science of which he claimed to be the sole master.—They say that, in consequence of another condition being stipulated upon by the Count's vindictive adversary—a condition so dark and terrible that even the boldest among the witnesses hesitated to subscribe to it—the combat was to be kept entirely secret, and not, as is usual at St. Petersburg, made the immediate subject of wager and talk in every boudoir of the city.

The enemies met in less than two hours from the utterance of the sentence on the skating match by Alexander. Those who were present at the combat will remember it to their dying hour. They were few in number, for the Czar Nicholas was known to be firm in his resolution in putting down the crime of duelling by severe measures. There were the two witnesses, and the tall heiduque, belonging to each of the combatants, to carry their swords, but who and what were the fierce-looking men, armed with hatchets, carrying long iron poles, and bearing a coil of rope slung across their shoulders? There was no surgeon—none considered necessary, for it was a combat to the death—and one of the combatants, perhaps both, would never need medicine more. It was just sunset, at which period of the day, in northern countries, the air assumes, as it were, a blackened tint, and the silence becomes intense. Great haste was required, lest the night should come on before the bloody work was completed. The whole party arrived in two sledges, from which they alighted, and skated together to a convenient spot in the middle of the lake. Why did the fierce-looking men with the rope and hatchets, who had been appointed to choose the spot where the combat was to take place, search for the place where the ice, wearing the bluest tinge, showed that it was thinest? The combat began—it was evidently destined to be fierce and terrible. The novel difficulty of the skates rendered it, likewise, full of a palpitating interest to the bystanders.—The issue was not long doubtful, for the Count's adversary, blinded by passion, grew so hot and pressing that he soon lost all control over his motions, and in spite of the coolness with which the Count measured each lunge, fell forward so suddenly as to remain impaled upon the latter's sword.

Death was instantaneous; then did the two men with the hatchets betray the dark purpose for which they had been brought to the spot, for they began to break away the ice beneath their feet, and, when it was observed to yield, they pressed it down with the long iron poles they carried, and the crash with which it descended into the stagnant water beneath echoed like a knell. Then, altogether, the gentlemen and servants helped to raise the dead body from which the blood was still gushing, and freezing as fast as it flowed from the death-wound upon the ice, and the two men with the rope, tying the head and feet, let it down through the hole which had been made. Even when it had disappeared, they moved not from the spot, but remained pacing up and down the ice, talking in a low voice together, and smoking their cherots to keep out the cold, for the night promised to be a bitter one. Now and then, as they passed by the place where the unhappy man had disappeared, they would bend down and look into the dark abyss. Night had come on while they yet waited thus—they still walked up and down, watching the hole as though they had expected the dead man to come up again. One of the heiduques startled them by his joyous cry, just as the moon was rising, and outward objects began to assume more distinctness. "It is come—it is come!" cried he; and the whole company moved forward to look. A thin sheet of ice was spreading itself over the surface of the water—their task was done—they were released—no danger now—by to-morrow all evidence of what had occurred would have passed away as though it had never been.

The sledges both drove off—the horses' bells jingling joyously—and returned to St. Petersburg without adventure. The Count was met at his door by an officer, who had orders to arrest him, as the Emperor had heard of the wager and the quarrel, and wished to prevent the meeting he was sure would take place the next day. The same orders had been dispatched to the adversary's quarters. The Czarowitz, however, interfered, and, they say, gave his word of honor that no combat should take place; and, to prevent it, sent the Count his passport, with orders to leave immediately. Needless to say, this was done. Whether the present Czar ever knew the real particulars of the combat is still doubtful, but all St. Petersburg knew them well. The Count remained in exile until the death of Nicholas, when he returned to St. Petersburg, and was appointed to a post of confidence about the person of the Empress Dowager.

Men of Influence.

Whenever we encounter a man who boasts about his influence, we set him down as a man of little or no influence at all. Such men usually have an extensive run of acquaintances and assume an air of familiarity on the shortest notice To hear one of these men talk, if you believed half he said, you would think him the chosen confident and adviser of every prominent man in the community. But the truth is, they force themselves upon the attention of every one they can possibly approach; and whoever treats them with common decency is enrolled among their intimate friends, as one who holds them in high estimation and would make almost any sacrifice for their gratification. The contrary, however, is the fact. They are looked upon as eavesdroppers and news-carriers; and, though tolerated, are always considered excruciating bores.—They may be made use of occasionally to do ditty work, but they are never confided in in matters of importance, nor is their opinion asked—nor heeded when volunteered, as it invariably is. They know everybody, and everybody knows them, but only as persons to be passed by and got rid of as lightly and as easily as possible.

The man of greatest influence is not unfrequently unconscious of having any influence at all. He minds his own business, deals justly with all, and never counts on his influence to accomplishing anything. He pretends to nothing, and has the sterling coin of worth to show for everything. He puts his faith only in full and just equivolents, and commands success by never undertaking what he has not the materials for carrying through. Hence his influence. Others see this, and feel that whatever he turns his attention to he will accomplish and they are willing to follow his lead whether they can see the end clearly or not. Such a man never talks of his influence, and rather suspects it when it is called in question. Thus we see that virtue and modesty go hand in hand.

Curtain Lecture.

Been out all night again. I'd like to know where you keep yourself till this time in the morning; it is not ten minutes since I heard the clock strike four.—You didn't hear it. No of course you didn't. You would not hear the last trump—the noise would have to travel through an acre or two of German beer before it would get to your hearing. Had to go up among your German friends? Had to go; I'd like to know how you had to go. Some folks are dreadful willing to "had" to go. Yes, I know it's coming on election times; that's a good excuse to get away from your family and home. I wish there was no election in the whole country—it would be much better off if we hadn't any. What did you do all the night long? Who did you elect?—Who did you see? Theatre and dance. Now turn over here. Oh, Lord! am I in a hop-yard or a distillery, or where am I?—What have you got inside of you? Did not drink much. You must have got into a beer barrel, then, for it's coming out all over you, and how it smells!

You danced, eh? You must have cut a pretty figure—guess it was lager beer reel. Do you think I'll stand this going off to a dance all night? Who did you dance with? I'll bet she was as homely as a pumpkin with two holes in it.

Look here, you needn't pretend sleep! I want to have a little domestic conversation with you. I'm your better half, and your better half proposes to discuss matters a little. Late. How do you know it's late—it's early enough to give you a piece of a woman's tongue. Tonguey.—Yes, I am tonguey—that's part of a woman's prerogative, and I'm going to use some of it on you. Let you alone?

Did you say that to the girl you danced with? Oh no! nothing of the sort; it was; "Miss, shall I have the pleasure of your very beautiful person for the next cotilion?" I wish I could see her—I'd take the beautiful out of her at a jerk. Can get no peace? Yes, you can get plenty of it—go to the theatre; go electioneering; dance with the Dutch girls till morning, and come home and I'll give you peace by the long measure—I'll give you a piece of my mind. Come back here where are you going? Get into another bed?—Not exactly; this has been large enough heretofore, and it has not grown any smaller lately. You danced did you? I'd like to see you dance with me. I'm to old I spoze—I ain't to old to give you fits.

The Lawyer Answered.

A story is told of a very eminent lawyer in the city receiving a very severe reprimand from a witness on the stand whom he was trying to browbeat. It was an important issue, and in order to save his cause from defeat, it was necessary that Mr. A—— should impeach the witness. He endeavored to do it on the ground of age. The following dialogue ensued:

Lawyer—How old are you?

Witness—Seventy-two years.

Lawyer—Your memory, of course, is not so brilliant and vivid as it was twenty years ago, is it?

Witness—I do not know but it is.

Lawyer—State some circumstance that occurred, say twelve years ago, and we shall be able to see how well you can remember.

Witness—I appeal to your honor if I am to be interrogated in this manner.

Judge—You had better answer the question.

Lawyer—Yes, sir, state it.

Witness—Well, sir, if you compel me to do it, I will About twelve years ago you studied in Judge B——'s office, did you not?

Lawyer—Yes.

Witness—Well, sir, I remember your father coming into my office, and saying to me, "Mr. D——, my son is to be examined to-morrow, and I wish you would lend me fifteen dollars to buy him a suit of clothes." And I remember also, sir, that from that day to this he has never paid me that sum. That, sir, I remember as though it were but yesterday.

Lawyer—(considerably abashed) That will do, sir.

CURE FOR CORNS.—If a "poor cripple will take a lemon, cut a piece of it off, then nick it so as to let in the toe with the corn, the pulp next the corn, tie this on at night so that it cannot move, he will find the next morning that with a blunt knife the corn will come away to a great extent. Two or three applications of this will make a poor cripple happy for life; and I would be glad to hear the result.—London Post.

UNITED DELEGATION.—We notice that the Opposition papers of this State are now agitating the subject of the selection of delegates to the Chicago National Convention, some favoring their appointment by the State Convention which meets on Wednesday next, and others demanding that they be selected by Congressional Conferences. In the event of the selection of the delegates by the State Convention, Pennsylvania will send a united delegation, while their selection by conferences would result in sending a divided delegation. We do not profess to be very well booked up in the politics of the present day, (nor does it much concern us as to who are the candidates of the different parties, further than that they be good men,) yet we can easily foresee the result to Pennsylvania, should her delegation be divided, as it might be, unless selected by the State Convention. It cannot reasonably be expected that the delegates of other States would support a man from Pennsylvania, for either office, should he not receive the united support of the delegates from his State. The only hope of Pennsylvania is in sending a united delegation, and the surest plan of securing such a delegation is to allow the State Convention to select it.

PAYMENT OF STATE TAXES.—An effort is being made in certain quarters to secure the enactment of a law, by the present Legislature which, if passed, will be an advantage to the people in the payment of their State taxes. According to the present law, if the Revenue Commissioners fix the amount of State tax to be paid by a county, say at $10,000, and the Assessors of the county should assess $12,000 State tax, the State will claim the 2,000 excess. The law proposed will give the State no more than the amount fixed by the Revenue Commissioners, and certainly that is all she is entitled to, the excess to go into the county fund, to be used for county purposes. It is impossible for the county assessors to assess an amount exactly equal to that fixed by the Revenue Commissioners as the quota to be paid by the county; sometimes it may be too high—if too low, the county must make up the deficiency, and if too high, of course the county ought to get the excess. The law proposed is a just one, and we hope it may pass.

CAPTURE OF A SLAVER.—The barque Orion, Capt. Morgan, was captured off the coast of Africa by the British war steamer Pluto, and found to have on board 1023 slaves, bound to Cuba. The Orion was sailing under American colors, and hailed from New York. The steamer took her to St. Helena and gave her into the charge of the U. S. steamer Mystic. One hundred and twenty-five of the slaves died on the passage. The vessel is supposed to be the property of parties in Cuba.

☞ It has been decided lately in the Supreme Court at Pittsburg, that a loss by the stealing of goods that are insured, at a fire, is recoverable against an insurance company as a loss occasioned by fire. A fire policy, therefore, not only covers losses by the removal of goods from a building actually on fire, although the goods may not have been burnt, but, in fact, are injured by water or by breakage in the act of saving, but also all goods lost or stolen in consequence of such removal.

☞ The trial of Stevens, one of the Harper's Ferry insurgents, was concluded on the 4th inst. No new evidence was adduced. The Jury was out fifteen minutes, and returned with a verdict of guilty on all the counts. The prisoner was unaffected by the announcement.

Letter from Harrisburg.

Correspondence of the Tribune.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 14, 1860.

Gentlemen:—There must be important work of some kind on hand, for during yesterday the accessions to the floating population were numerous, and among them I noticed some very old stagers in the boring profession, who make their first appearance here this session.

The State Editorial Convention meets to-morrow, and I look for a large turn-out of the quill-driving fraternity. As usual, I presume those editors whose editorial labors are comprised in the onerous duty of setting up half a column of original matter weekly, will figure most conspicuously, as heretofore.

The political cauldron is seething and bubbling at a terrible rate. Gov. Reeder has declined in a letter which was received here on Friday last. This gives Curtin an unexpected accession of eight votes. He has also gained within a week past three delegates in Montgomery, and two in Lancaster, which places his nomination beyond the possibility of a doubt, unless something should transpire between this and the 22d inst, of which nothing is known.—Mr. Covode is here, but I think he gives up all hops of getting the nomination. Like Townsend Haines, Samuel Calvin, and Mr. Kline, he will probably be satisfied with a complimentary vote this time, in hopes of better luck next time.

On the other side, there is no telling who will get the nomination. Many contradictory rumors are afloat—among others which I regard as very vague, is one that President Buchanan indicates a preference for Arnold Plummer. It does not follow that the action of the Reading Convention should be governed by such preference, but if it is, and Plummer is nominated, I thus early predict his defeat by a larger majority than that party has ever sustained in this State.

Yesterday in the Senate Mr. Landon read a bill in place an act to prevent the sale of adulterated vinous, fermented, or spirituous liquors. The act provides for such penalties for adulterated lixuors as must put a clinch to that unholy traffic, if it does not destroy it altogether.

On Friday last Mr. Bell called up the following bill in the Senate, which was passed to a second reading, and laid over for the present:—

An Act to authorize the appointment of boards of visitors to the several houses of employment, and for the support of the poor of this Commonwealth.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That in such counties of this Commonwealth in which have been or may hereafter be established and erected houses for the employment and support of the poor, it shall be the duty of the judges of the court of common pleas of the proper county to appoint annually, at the first term of the court, a board of visitors, to consist of three citizens of the county, one of whom shall be a practicing physician.

SEC. 2. That the duties of the said board of visitors shall be to visit, as soon as practicable after their appointment, the house of employment and support of their proper county, to carefully inspect the same, and report in writing to the court its state and condition, the manner in which its government is administered, the defects observable therein, with suggestions for its improvement that may present themselves to the board, and generally such facts, observations and recommendations, as the said board may think necessary, to the due government of the said house of employment and support, and the improvement of the system of public relief to the poor, and particularly as it relates to and affects pauper lunatics; and the said report shall be published in the newspapers of the proper county, for public information, at the expense of the county.

I regard this as a very important bill, and hope that it will become a law. The real condition of a poor-house and its unfortunate inmates can be better ascertained than by a steward's annual statement.

The charter of the Newry Railroad Company still remains unlifted, and if not taken up within a year after its passage, it becomes null and void.

I suppose you noticed that a supplement to the act incorporating the Pennsylvania Rail Road Company was introduced into the Senate last week. The principal object contemplated by this supplement is to compel Mr. Thompson to resign the Presidency of the Pennsylvania Railroad. To accomplish this, the supplement enacts that the President of the Road shall not hold the office of President of any other Railroad Company. It is well known that the office of President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company pays but a nominal salary, but that Mr. Thompson is President of the Southern Pacific Railroad, which Company rewards his services with the liberal salary of $25,000 per annum.—The defeated candidates for Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad have thus raised a question of dollars and cents in order to force the management of the Road out of the hands of the present Board. But such an object can not be accomplished by any such underhanded measures. Under the management of Mr. Thompson, the Pennsylvania Railroad has attained a name and reputation second to none in the world. His services are appreciated by the travelling public as well as the stockholders and there is therefore no danger whatever that this supplement will pass.

I believe I spoke in my last of the Colleges of the Commonwealth asking for an annual appropriation. A bill has been reported—with a negative recommendation, however—prefaced with the following preamble:—

WHEREAS, It is the duty of the government to extend its fostering protection to the colleges of the State, as well as to the common schools, both being essential to a complete system of public instruction:

AND WHEREAS, It has been the policy of this State, from time to time, to afford pecuniary aid to colleges and universities, incorporated by act of the Legislature, which have fully complied with the requirements of their charters, and are in successful operation, with the usual regular college classes and permanently established professorships:

AND WHEREAS, The causes for the temporary withdrawal of the support and encouragement thus formerly extended, have been removed by the improved financial condition of the Commonwealth, and a return to the ancient policy of the State is demanded alike by considerations of public duty and the necessities of our leading institutions of learning, these institutions being organized on a basis so liberal as to render them practically free schools, and which are now struggling with embarrassments from which the aid of the Commonwealth may appropriately relieve them, conferring upon them that position of influence and usefulness to which they are entitled.

It is no doubt the duty of the Government, as well as sound policy, to extend its fostering protection to schools accessible to all, but not to Colleges, which are only open to the sons of rich men. The sacrifice of the the State Improvements, and a heavy taxation upon the people has reduced the State debt a few millions but not sufficiently so to justify the Legislature in giving $2,000 per annum for ten years, or a total of $150,000 in that time to nine Colleges, as the bill contemplates. The bill has been recommitted to the Committee, but it cannot pass even if reported favorably.

A large number of bills of a local character passed both Houses to-day, but they possess no general interest. Yours, LOGAN.

☞ The ladies of New York have organized a "hearthstone club" for discussing domestic matters and bringing about necessary reforms in housekeeping. They meet once a month, and at the last meeting, among other important discussions, an argument on dolls took place. One thought a rag-baby as good as a doll; and another, that as the doll was the child's idea of the human, it should be beautiful so as not to vitiate the child's taste; while the President suggested that it should be artistic in form, and denounced the shapeless commodities found in the market. After these important decisions, the ladies adjourned. As advocates of the rights of our own sex, we insist that they devote some attention to masculine as well as feminine toys, and at the next meeting we hope to hear what they have got to say on hobby-horses, tin-whistles and pop-guns.

TWO GIRLS RESCUED FROM AUSTRALIAN SAVAGES.—The Sydney Herald gives an account of the rescue of two European girls from Frazer Island, believed to be the only survivors out of all the passengers wrecked in the Sea Belle.—They were taken from the natives of the island on the 22d of October—were found sixty miles inland. The Herald says, "the girls appear to be about the respective ages of fifteen and six years; their appearance is heart-rending; their bodies, emaciated from long suffering and exposure to the weather, are covered with a coating of hair; the skin, stained by their tormentors to assimilate with their own has become spotted and wrinkled, as if from old age; the nose has been flattened by force, the limbs distorted, and the vacant stare of idiocy has left these poor creatures scarcely in appearance human, and although enabled gradually to recognize such things as they must have been in the habit of seeing hourly before they fell into the hands of the natives their acquaintance with their mother tongue is, as yet, apparently quite gone." Other Europeans are believed to be prisoners of the blacks on Frazer Island.

FIGHT WITH A MAD DOG.—A few nights ago Mr. Owen Hamilton, of Chester county, was aroused by his dog going mad in the room occupied by himself and family. Lighting a candle as quick as possible, he saw the dog coming towards him as if to make battle. Not knowing in the moment of excitement what to do, he jumped upon the bed; but seeing the danger of his wife and children, and having no weapon at hand to kill him with, he made an effort and succeeded in catching him back of the neck.—After a desperate struggle, we might say for life or death, he overpowered the dog. Then came the trouble to dispatch him—being almost overcome in the struggle. The gun was brought, but it was unloaded; the axe, but both hands were required to hold the dog. Finally a rope was procured, and the wife tied him. He was then killed. Mr. Hamilton fortunately received no injury; but one hand was completely paralyzed for a time from the effects of the struggle.

EXTRAORDINARY CHALLENGE.—Capt. Travis publishes in the Memphis papers a pistol challenge, for $500 or $1,000 a side, to be shot as follows:—With pistols, thirty shots a side, at ten paces distance, the target to be shot at a copper cent; my opponent to shoot at deliberate aim, with one hand only,—string measurement, from centre to centre. I ask that my opponent shall give me five hit cents out of thirty shots; or in other words, I will shoot twenty-five shots to his thirty. I shall require him to shoot his shots by daylight; I will shoot my shots in any dark night he may select, or in a dark room devoid of light. The match to take place in the city of New York, in New Orleans, Memphis or Nashville, within thirty days after it is made.

POOR SOUTH CAROLINA.—It would appear that South Carolina has given up the expectation of her Disunion Convention which she hoped would come of Mr. Memminger's mission to Virginia. The Orangeburg Southern Rights organizes:—"When Virginia, after the raid of John Brown, refuses to meet us in friendly debate, we confess that our hopes of a Southern Confederacy are almost destroyed."

The Pennsylvania Railroad.

We made allusion, yesterday, to the fact that the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad had held their usual annual meeting in Philadelphia, on Saturday, and that the reports submitted on the occasion showed the road to be in a highly prosperous condition. From a complete report of the proceedings now before us, we learn that the receipts of the road for the year were $5,362,355, the expenses $3,-230,738, and the net earnings $2,231,617.—The earnings show an increase of $177,024 as compared with 1858. The earnings for first-class passengers show an increase of $63,355, while the earnings from imigrant business show a decrease of $21,681, leaving as an increase of passenger business $48,674.—The increase of travel has been large between Harrisburg and Philadelphia, in spite of the competition with the Reading Railroad and its Lebanon Valley Branch. The entire number of passengers transported during the year was 1,-459,110, and the miles traveled amounted to 54,830,791, or an average of 37¼ miles per passenger. Not a single life has been lost of the immense number of passengers carried. The freight earnings of the year amounted to $119,-904 more than was derived from this source in 1858. The increase is mainly local.

The whole tonnage of the road in 1850, was 1,170,240 tons, exclusive of 80,875 tons of wood, coal, lumber, &c., for the use of the Company. The total carriage of coal, in the cars of the company, and of individuals, was 421,625 tons, being an increase of 81,087 tons over last year. The earnings of the canals owned by the Company were $197,549; expenses $175,452; net earnings $22,097. The company during the year paid two semi-annual dividends of three per cent each. The funds set aside as a sinking fund for the redemption of the second mortgage bonds, have been invested in shares of the Cumberland Valley Railroad, and to an amount of more than one-half of the capital stock of that Company The exhibit seems quite full and the report was generally well received.—Pitts. Chronicle.

Oil in Western Pennsylvania.

A correspondent of the Sunbury American, writing from Warren county, says:—"The recent discovery of the oil springs in the western part of Pennsylvania is more important than many are aware of. In a conversation with an intelligent gentleman from Warran, Pa., he informed me that one of the wells recently dug in that vicinity, the production of oil was about thirty casks, of forty gallons each, daily. The well is about seventy feet deep, and is bored through about thirty feet of a kind of soapstone, after which it penetrates in sandstone formation, from the crivices of which the oil is forced upwards to the surface. A small engine is used to pump up the liquid, about twenty-five per cent of which is oil. It is received in a large vessel, from the top of which the oil flows, while the water is run off at a point below the oil. In this simple manner the oil is separated from the water, and is worth there forty cents a gallon, At present the crude oil is taken to Buffalo, and by a little refining is there sold at ninety cents per gallon. There are now about thirty wells being dug and in operation in the western part of Warren county.

THRILLING ADVENTURE.—A Party carried off upon the Ice.—On Monday last a party of gentlemen visited the bay for the purpose of seeing the Indians and others fish for trout. About two o'clock some of the party observed a singular motion of the ice. It appeared that there was a strong current in the water, but an examination disclosed the fact that the ice upon which they were standing had parted between them and the shore, and that they were rapidly floating into Lake Huron. They at once put their horses in motion to find some point where they could get to the main land, but could find no such place. In the mean time they were going very rapidly, the wind blowing a gale from the shore. Their situation was very dangerous, both as regards the danger of the breaking up of the ice upon which they were, and the severe cold. Great excitement existed at Bay City amongs the inhabits generally, and many plans for their relief were talked of and canvassed. They floated some fourteen miles, when one end of the ice fortunately grounded on Squaw Point. They made a rush for the shore, after first getting off their horses and sleighs. The ice was much broken, and they had to travel some distance over separate cakes to reach the shore.—East Saginaw Cour., Feb. 3.

A FAT COUPLE.—Mr. and Mrs. Annin, residing near the High Bridge of the N. J. Central Railroad, are supposed to be the largest couple in this country. The gentleman's weight is 700 and the lady's 500. Mr. Annin's age is 45, and Mrs. Annin's 40. It requires six yards of cassimere for Mr. A.'s pants and nine yards of cloth for a coat. He and his wife keep a public house at a house called Peg's Pebble. It is said that Barnum, of the New York Museum, offered the couple $1500 per year and their expenses, if they would come to New York, but they refused telling him they did not wish to be looked at so much. They began to increase in size about seventeen years ago.

A MEAN TRICK.—Two Italian organ grinders were recently tarred and feathered, and ridden on a rail, in Alabama, victims of a cruel practical joke. Being on their way from Mobile into the interior, they asked for a direction, and were given a paper which, they not understanding English, innocently accepted. The paper read as follows: "To the Knowing Ones—Pass my Italian friends. All right. Mum's the word. (Signed) John Brown, of Ossawatomie." Reaching the next town faint and weary, they showed this note at the hotel, and the mob soon gathered and administered a dose of southern chivalry, almost killing the poor vagrants.

A RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A terrible accident happened on Monday to Mr. Kelly, foreman of the Railroad machine shop at York, on the arrival of the train from Baltimore. He was standing between the wood shed, at the station-house, and the track, when the train came along. The entire train passed him without injury, except the last car, which being wider than the rest, caught him and rolled him along with it, breaking a number of ribs and his collar bone. Surgical aid was immediately summoned, and the unfortunate man now lies in an extremely critical condition.

☞ The Jury who investigated the Elm street calamity returned a verdict censuring Mr. Waring, the owner of the tenement building for omitting to construct an iron staircase, or otherwise provide for the safety of the inmates, in case of fire, and called upon the Legislature to stringently enact that no building to be occupied by a number of families shall be over five stories in height, and that all of them be provided with outside iron stairways, with doors opening upon them from each story.

☞ The Boston friends of Charles Sumner, sent him a beautiful present on New Year's day. It was a set of knives, forks and spoons, which formerly belonged to Baithyany, the Hungarian patriot, who was shot by the Austrians a few years ago. His property was confiscated and sold at auction, and these articles were purchased by an American who happened to be in Austria at the time. They are very magnificent, made of gold, with handles of onyx, set with turquoises.

AN EVENTFUL LIFE.—Mr. Darius Nash, who was rescued from the ruins of the Pemberton Mill after several hours of great suffering, has passed through as many imminent dangers as usually fall to the lot of one man. On the stormy night in which Minot's Ledge Light-house was carried away, he was on a vessel some fifty miles from New York, and was wrecked. The whole crew lashed themselves to the wreck, and out of nine only four survived.—They were picked out by the crew of a vessel from Salem, after four days and three nights of suffering, and Nash was among those saved. At another time he fell from the main topsail yard and saved his life by catching at a reefing bit. At one time in his life he had accumulated $4,000 by his own industry and frugality, and he invested it in a bark. The bark was wrecked on the Florida Reefs, and the insurance had expired two days before. Last spring he had a long and painful siege of the bilious fever, which was followed by the typhoid fever in the summer, and on the night of the terrible calamity of the Pemberton Mill he was among those covered beneath the ruins. His thrilling narrative of his imprisonment with Miss Lizzie Flint, who perished, we have given before. Mr. Nash's father was killed by falling from a load of hay. His brother was killed under the ruins. Mr. Nash is still in good courage, and says that all he desires is good health.—Boston Journal.

HORRIBLE MURDER.—A Master Killed and Burned by his Slaves.—On Monday last, Dr. W. Croxton, a highly intelligent citizen of Essex county, Va., had occasion to correct a servant woman for some offence, but did so in a mild and gentle manner. This fact enraged a negro man, who vowed to have revenge, but at the time gave his master no intimation of his intention. On Wednesday last, whilst one of the servants was engaged in grinding a cutting knife, Dr. Croxton walked to where he was, and whilst looking on, without suspecting danger, another servant stepped behind him, gave him a violent blow upon the back of the head, which felled him to the ground, and then dispatched him. The two then dragged him behind the barn, and kindling a fire placed his body on it and burned it. They next cut the skirts of the saddle upon his riding horse, and then turned the horse loose, expecting to create the impression that he had been attacked on the road and murdered. When the doctor was missing his friends instituted a search for him, and in the pile of ashes near the barn discovered two or three of his fingers and a portion of one of his feet. The murder has caused great excitement in the neighborhood in which it was committed.—Richmond Dispatch.

WORMS! WORMS!

Various theories have been started relative to the origin of intestinal worms, and yet the question is still a vexed one among medical authorities. Of one fact, however, all are informed, and in which all agree—the fatal nature of the influence they exert on children. At this season of the year, the attacks of worms are most frequent as well as most dangerous. We take great pleasure in directing the attention of parents to the Vermifuge of Dr. M'Lane, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh. It is one of the most extraordinary medicines ever introduced to the public, and has never failed of success when tried.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS., of Pittsburgh, Pa. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Liver Pills, also his celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of FITS! WHY PROMINENT.

For a long time there was a a paragraph making its regular weekly appearance in our columns, with the brief, but emphatic words "Fits! Fits!" always at the head, to some an offensive caption, but not so to the benevolent and humane, who could sympathize in the sorrows of others. Some persons are shocked at any indication of disease and are even thrown into nervous excitement on witnessing a hearse or coffin. Such are to be pitied. We should always strive to look disease and even death in the face with calmness, and especially take every opportunity for alleviating disease.—Viewed in this light, the advertisements of S. S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., possess a certain interest, and those who know of any one suffering from Epilepsy, Spasms, or Fits of any kind, should feel it a pleasure to cut out his advertisement, or in some other way send word to the afflicted of the great value of his remedies. They can be sent to any part of the country by mail. Price, $3 per box. Two, $5. Twelve, $24.

☞ "OH THAT THE SKIN of an innocent sheep should be made into parchment, and written on to the undoing of a man!" quoth Shakspeare. He might also have deplored the ruining of men's forms by the uncouth manner in which some ungracious tailors butcher up the cloth made from the wool grown by these same harmless sheep. To see the perfection of the art of working up cloth wisely and well, and so as to set off to the best advantage the forms of its wearers, call at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut St. above Sixth, Phila. and examine their stock of garments for gentlemen and youths.

LOCAL ITEMS.

To the Voters of Altoona.—In consequence of certain interested parties industriously circulating the report that I have withdrawn from the contest for Justice of the Peace, I take this method of contradicting such report. I have been placed in my present position without solicitation on my part, and if my friends see fit to elect me, I will try to serve the public to the best of my ability and judgment.

JOHN McCLELLAND.

ALMOST A DUEL.—We have just been made acquainted with the following facts, in reference to a difficulty which came very near being settled agreeably to the laws of the "code duello," the preventing cause being inserted in its proper place. It appears that two of our citizens had a little difficulty about sawing wood. Sharp words were exchanged and hard blows would have been the result, had it not struck one of the parties that a duel would be a more honorable and satisfactory mode of settling the account. Accordingly a challenge was sent and accepted. Seconds were chosen, horse-pistols selected as the weapons, distance ten paces, and the time between 9 and 12 o'clock, A. M., on Monday, Feb. 13th. One of the parties appeared anxious for the time to arrive, in order that he might wipe out the insult that had been given him, or be himself wiped out of existence.—Like a thoughtful man, he settled up all his business, that he might be prepared for the latter contingency. At just 30 minutes past eleven o'clock, on the appointed day, the parties met. The seconds loaded the pistols, and stepped off the distance, after which they placed the principals in their positions and handed them the pistols. The crisis had now been reached. The seconds stepped back from their men and prepared to give the word of command, when lo! the pistol drops from the hand of one of the belligerents and the last seen of him was his coat tail turning the nearest corner at 2,40 speed. Thus ended what might otherwise have been a terrible tragedy. The pistols, we believe, contained nothing but a little powder.

IMPORTANT.—The attention of the Stockholders in the Altoona Gas and Water Company is directed to the following section of the Act of Assembly of March 11th, 1857, entitled "an act to provide for the incorporation of Gas and Water Companies:—

SEC. 8. That if the stockholder, whether an original subscriber or assignee, after twenty days' notice of the time and place appointed for the payment of any instalment or proportion of the capital stock, shall neglect to pay the same at the place appointed, for the space of thirty days after the time appointed for payment thereof, such stockholder shall, in addition to the instalment so called for, pay at the rate of one per centum per month for every delay of such payment, and if the same and additional penalty shall become equal to the sum before paid on account of such share, the same may be forfeited by and to the said company, and may be sold by them at public sale for such price as may be obtained therefor, or in default of payment of any stockholders of such instalments as aforesaid for the space of sixty days after the time appointed as aforesaid, the president and managers may at their election cause suit to be brought in the same manner as debts of a like amount are now recoverable, for the recovery of the same, together with the penalties aforesaid.

We give the above for the information and benefit of those who have not yet paid their subscriptions to the capital stock, as we understand that the Company intend enforcing the law against all delinquents, immediately after the last instalment is due.

ACCIDENT.—The venerable mother of Sheriff Funk, and wife of Mr. John Funk, of Allegheny township, met with a sad accident on Sabbath morning last. She started to the barn to milk, and when passing down the back steps leading to the stable below, she slipped and fell, fracturing her left arm below the shoulder and dislocated the shoulder joint. She suffered very severely, but is doing as well as could be expected. Drs. Landis and Christy performed the surgical duties in the case.—Whig.

ON THE CORNER.—We notice that our young friend, G. M. Smith, has opened a wholesale and retail confectionary establishment, in the store room formerly occupied by H. Tuch, on the corner of Main and Caroline streets.—He has on hand a large stock of candies, nuts, fruit, &c., which he will sell at prices to suit the times. All in want of anything in his line should give him a call.

ELECTION.—The borough election, which comes off to-morrow, promises to be hotly contested. The most important office to be filled is that of Justice of the Peace, for which there are seven candidates, three of whom are the nominees of parties, and the remaining four are Independents. Our citizens can certainly make a choice out of that number. For the other offices there will be a close party vote.

DENTISTRY.—Dr. J. G. Trimble, of Philadelphia, having opened an office in Hollidaysburg, is prepared to wait on all persons in Altoona, at their residences, who may need his services. All work warranted to give satisfaction.

A note addressed to J. G. Trimble, Hollidaysburg, will meet with prompt attention.

HON. SAMUEL CALVIN:—The question of American labor, is, in view of the great depression in all the industrial interests of our country, deeply agitating the public mind; and it is only by a truthful exposition of the principles of a "Home Market," that labor can be elevated to a high and proper standard in this country.

Your able advocacy of American labor, and zealous efforts to direct public opinion into the right channel as to the best and most efficient means of securing to labor its proper reward, have prompted us to address you, asking you to name some time when it will suit you, to deliver a series of public lectures on American labor in this place.

ATTEND TO COUGHS AND COLDS.—There is a significance in the above advice which, if attended to in time, would save hundreds of persons from untimely graves. Do we not know that many persons neglect to attend to coughs and such like maladies, under the hope that nature will cure. Nature does sometimes cure; but she will cure much more rapidly if assisted by some such remedy as Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, which is compounded for those very diseases of the lungs and bronchial apparatus, so prevalent in every part of the United States.—We advise our readers, therefore, who may be afflicted with coughs, bronchial irritation or any disease of the lungs or wind-pipe, to have recourse at once to this remedy, which Dr. Keyser has prepared with great care for the cure of those cases. Timely attention will save much suffering and oftentimes the life of the person using it. Sold at fifty cents and one dollar per bottle, by Dr. Keyser, No. 140 Wood street.—For sale by G. W. Kessler.

PICTURE GALLERY.—W. H. Amey, of Harrisburg, would respectfully inform the citizens of Altoona and vicinity that he has taken the picture gallery of Mr. Clabaugh, in this place, where he is located permanently, and hopes by strict attention to business to merit the patronage of the public.

Pictures of all the latest styles made at short notice, warranted durable, at prices to suit the times.

A fine assortment of cases on hand.
Orders taken for frames at city prices.

BENJ. F. ROSE, Sec'y.

CANDIDATES CARDS.

To the Citizens of Altoona:

After some deliberation I have concluded to offer myself to your favorable consideration as a candidate for the office of JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, without respect to party. This office should not be made a political test to run any man into office. You all have an equal interest in the execution of your laws. I received the office from you, five years ago, without respect to party, and with scarcely a dissenting voice at the ballot box, and therefore I have tried to act with equal impartiality toward all, to the best of my judgement and ability; and if elected again, my office door will always be open to all of you. Call and see me. Come in without knocking at the door.

Altoona, Feb. 9, 1860. JACOB GOOD.

To the Free and Independent Voters of the Borough of Altoona.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN
STEREOSCOPIC EMPORIUM.
E. ANTHONY, 308 Broadway, New York.
Up-stairs. May 14, 1859, at 501 Broadway, two doors from the St. Nicholas Hotel.

The Stereoscope is the most instructive, interesting, entertaining, amusing and exciting of modern inventions.

None are too young, none too old, none too intelligent, none too uneducated, to acknowledge its worth and beauty.

No home is complete without it, and it must and will penetrate everywhere.

It presents to your view every part of the world, in all the relief, boldness, perspective, and sharpness of detail, as if you were on the spot.

Photographers are everywhere exploring Europe, Asia, Africa, America, in search of the grand and the beautiful, and the results of their skill are constantly enriching our stock.

We have an immense variety of paper Views of Scenes in Paris, London, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, France Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Spain, The Rhine, Versailles St. Cloud, Fontainebleau, Tuilleries, Italy, Turkey, Egypt Athens, the Holy Land, China, India, Crystal Palace, also George Hiscocks, painting marriage scenes, breakfast scenes, pic-nics, statuary, &c., &c. An exquisite assortment of Illuminated Interiors of Palaces, Churches, and Cathedrals of France, Italy, &c., &c. The effect of these illuminated views is most remarkable.

Every gentleman of wealth and refined taste should have in his drawing-room some of our exquisite views on glass, with a revolving stereoscope, showing 12, 26, 50 or 100 scenes. Nothing can be more fascinating, and one can offer, no greater treat to a friend fond of the picturesque and the beautiful.

Anthony's Instantaneous Stereoscopic Views are the latest Photographic wonder. They are taken in the fortieth part of a second, and everything no matter how rapidly it may be moving, is depicted as sharply and distinctly as if it had been perfectly at rest. This gives an additional value, for to the beauties of inanimate nature it adds the charm of life and motion. The process is a discovery of our own, and being unknown in Europe, we receive from London and Paris large orders for Anthony's Instantaneous Views of American life and scenery.

Among other things we have just published Stereoscopic Illustrations of the Scene of the Fulton Street Prayer Meetings, in which many hearts feel an interest. The particulars of this will be found in our catalogue.

Our Catalogue of subjects and prices will be forwarded to any address on receipt of a stamp.

Parties at a distance sending us $3, $5, $10, $15, $20, or $25, can have a good instrument and such pictures as they may request, sent by Express.

Views alone, (without instrument) can be sent by mail.

Parties who wish to be advised of everything really valuable in the line that comes out, may send us their names to place on record, and we will keep them posted at our own expense.

Men of leisure will find Photography a most fascinating and delightful amusement. We are prepared to fit out amateurs with everything necessary for their success together with instructions "How to take Stereoscopic Pictures." E. ANTHONY.

Importer and Manufacturer of Photographic Materials, Stereoscopes and Stereoscopic Views.

☞ Merchants from every section of the country are respectfully invited to make an examination of our stock, as our discount to the trade will be liberal.

R. A. O. KERR

WOULD INFORM THE GOOD people of Altoona, the surrounding country, and the "rest of mankind," that he has just returned from the city with a large stock of NEW GOODS, which he offers at reasonable prices, at the stand formerly occupied by B. Kerr, and recently by W. O'Neal, on Main street. His stock is the only one in town which is

and he flatters himself that he has something to please the eye of of every lady, and suit the wants of every gentleman. He deems it unnecessary to enumerate all the articles on the shelves (as to do so would require a whole newspaper,) but would say that he has everything in the line of which this meridian calls for, and all just suited to the season, together with a well selected assortment of House Furnishing Goods, such as Carpets, Window Blinds, Shades, &c., which will commend themselves.

FOR GENTLEMEN,

he has a great variety—from which they can not fail to make a satisfactory selection. He has also a tip-top assortment of GROCERIES as good, fresh and cheap as can be had this side of the place of growing or manufactures. Also, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, and everything necessary to complete a store in a thriving town like Altoona.

All he asks is that the people call and examine his stock, which he will at all times take pleasure in showing, and he feels confident that he can send them away rejoicing, if not in the purchase of just such an article as they wanted, at the remembrance of having looked upon the handsomest stock of Goods ever exhibited in the town.
